OUTDOOR LIVING

VLAZE ADAPT outdoor kitchens are crafted on the Isle of Wight by A.J Wells & Sons, a family-owned British engineering company founded in 1972. With a heritage spanning architectural cladding, ecological wood-burning stoves and the iconic signage for both the London Underground and Paris Metro, our expertise in precision manufacturing runs deep. The same exceptional porcelain-enamel finish trusted for these enduring public landmarks is the very surface that defines VLAZE.

Each kitchen module is meticulously crafted from 304 grade stainless steel and adorned in our signature vitreous enamel - a fusion of powdered glass and steel fired at over 800°C (1500°F). The result is a richly coloured, luminous glaze that is heatproof, weatherproof, hygienic and completely stain resistant.

Designed for discerning outdoor living, these beautiful pieces of furniture provide a luxurious, long-lasting setting for preparation, cooking and alfresco dining. They are true jewels within any garden or architectural space.
